Why we need your help

KEEN London is a small charity that relies on volunteers and supporters to deliver its unique one-to-one support. With a limited marketing budget we rely heavily on social media as a tool to share and promote our work, reach new volunteers and supporters, families in need of our service and like minded partner organisations. However, it takes time, work and know-how to build a following online and we could do with some help..

Purpose of the role

Our Comms Team, led by the Fundraising Manager, regularly publishes creative and engaging content to promote KEEN London services and volunteering opportunities. Our Digital Champions use their current social networks to share and engage with KEEN London content, helping us reach more people, feedback on ideas that work and growing our KEEN London digital family.

- We will give you opportunities to access other roles within the charity to help you broaden your skills.
- We have a budget set aside to cover volunteer expenses (see Volunteer Agreement below)
- We will provide you with ongoing feedback and support to enable you to reach your full potential at KEEN, you will receive an induction and handbook prior to starting your role and you will receive access to a virtual training portal with additional resources.
